

Laura FitzGerald is a Family Nurse Practitioner who will be providing primary care health services every second Tuesday from 10am-3pm at the Health Unit. She is very excited to meet the community and help to improve access to care. She is based at Q'wemtsin Health Unit in Kamloops. If you already have a family doctor she will not be replacing that doctor but can be available for prescription refills and episodic health challenges such as colds and coughs and routine health screening. As a nurse practitioner she is able to prescribe medications, refill prescriptions, order blood work and imaging as well as refer to specialist physicians and services if needed. Her focus is health promotion and wellness and she is available to provide men's and woman's health screenings as well as diabetes screenings, help with smoking cessation, and counselling. Please contact the health unit to book an appointment.
